Celebrating Our 45th Anniversary

This year the NSDAP/AO celebrates 45 years of existence.

The NSDAP/AO is the foreign organization and at the same time prepares for the future re-creation of the NSDAP. We are the largest NS (underground) Kampforganisation in today's Germany.

Within Germany and Austria, the NSDAP/AO is organized in many independently functioning cells coordinated by the NSDAP/AO and supplied with propaganda material. The Auslandszentrale (Foreign Central) is located in America, where its legality allows for a large-scale propaganda machine and the publication of this newsletter as well as stickers, posters and flyers in several languages.

The NSDAP/AO carries out a decisive struggle against NS bans and seeks the admission of the NSDAP as an electoral party in Germany and Austria. Until the fight for the abolition of the Nazi-prohibition or the overcoming of the present occupation conditions makes the reestablishment of the NSDAP itself possible, the leadership is in the hands of the NSDAP/AO organization leader and the leading NSDAP/AO fighters at home (i.e., Germany) and abroad.

The ultimate goal is the emergence of a NS state in a free, sovereign, Great German Empire, and a New Order with a racial foundation throughout the Aryan world.

The NSDAP/AO is active on an international level. Although most of the members are of course in Germany, they are also

ENGLAND

13. Why does England fight us?

England fights us, because it is the mortal enemy of any strong European continental power. England feels itself, corresponding to its Puritanical worldview, as the master folk summoned by God, which is supposed to rule over the folks of the world. England furthermore fights us, because it is the mortal enemy of our folk idea and our German socialism.

Furthermore, England is dominated by Jews. England's challenge is also Jewry's challenge.

England has been fighting for centuries for its principle of a "European balance of power", which teaches the prevention of any formation of a European central power. Even today, British newspapers and politicians openly admit that this war is being waged against Europe's unification through Germany – without regard for its political system. Plus there are even more motives: In England, the social problem has not been solved at all. Overall there are only two strata: the plutocratic stratum, which is heavily Jewized and has money and the economy in its hands, and the property-less lower stratum of the workers. A just social balance such as National Socialism has achieved to a great degree does not exist in England.

The English plutocracy has previously managed with the help of the Puritanical doctrine to overcome the great social divide, according to which the English folk order with its political and economic conditions are completely an "order desired by God".

Through our National Socialism, with which we strive to solve as social question as justly as possible, we have thwarted England's whole lying capitalist exploitation system.

That is why the English plutocrat hates us, because he knows that he must make great concessions to his workers, if he does not manage to destroy us. His working class is still kept in the dark by the Jewish-plutocratic press about the true events in National Socialist Germany.

Aside from the Jewish-plutocratic ideas of liberalism, the Englishman carries in his heart Puritanism as worldview.

Puritanism with its biblical faith in the chosen was and is the basis of England's political awareness of importance, this means its unbridled world domination claim in God's name.

England [Englandtum] and Puritanism are concepts that are not to be separated from each other. Puritanism has imprinted a Jewish-English life style, which over the course of history has brought the Englishman into an ever escalating collision with folks of different intellectual-psychological structure.

Puritanism was initially only a protest, influenced by Calvinistic and in part also Lutheran ideas, against the Roman-Catholic hierarchy. Over the course of its further development, however, one adopted in the striving for the pure doctrine more and more the Jewish-Old Testament body of ideas [Ideengut].

"In the year 1652, civil war broke out in England, which brought Karl II to the scaffold and Oliver Cromwell to power. It was mainly the Puritan group among the Republicans to whom the revolution owed its victorious outcome. The Puritans had written religious freedom upon their banner. One believed a large part of the Puritan doctrine anchored in the Old Testament, and so the Puritans compared Cromwell with Gideon or with Judas Maccabee, who transformed a handful of martyrs into a victorious army.

"Instead of the originally English names, Jewish ones from the Old Testament, yes, the lion of Judah, was placed on the Puritans' victorious banners. The time under the Stuart's rule was declared as "Egyptian captivity" (even today, millions of Englishmen be-supported by foreigners all over the world. Many non-German National Socialists, who sympathize with the NSDAP/AO in our severe struggle for a National Socialist Germany, are also represented in the NSDAP/AO support group. For these comrades, the NSDAP/AO publishes the newspaper The New Order in English and the NS News Bulletin in 18 languages.

The leader of the foreign branch of the NS underground movement in Germany is Gerhard Lauck. Comrade Lauck says:

“The NSDAP/AO was founded in 1972. During the next few decades we flooded Germany with millions of pieces of open NS propaganda material. (The “German” government appreciated this so much that they granted me TWO state paid vacations. The first time for four months and the second time for four years.)

“Over the decades I personally translated about 200 original Third Reich books from German into English. Other co-workers translated additional books. Today our third-reich-books.com publishes over 400 books in 13 languages. The whole production process is done in-house at our central headquarters in Nebraska (USA).

“In the year 2000 we started our web-hosting operation zensurfrei.com, which specializes in helping suppressed political dissident web-sites in Europe.

zensurfrei.com is now expanding thanks to the recruitment of additional IT co-workers.

“Our Book Promotion Campaign gives us a BIG advantage! We launched it last spring on Kyle Hunt's renegadetribune.com. Anyone who donates $25 or more to that web-site gets a FREE book from us.

[Note: Renegade Tribune offered to pay for these books, but I insisted that I pay the whole cost. Why? Because I want to make it abundantly clear that we seek co-workers/allies for our cause! Not merely “customers” for our own wallet!]

“What we have now is a mutually beneficial promotion: RT gets more donations because donors get a free book, the donors are happy because they get a free book, and we're happy because this is great advertising for our books. It's a win-win-win for everybody!

“Would YOU like to participate in this program? zensurfrei.com also uses our books as “leverage” to reduce cost.

“After free web-hosting for three months, we evaluate each web-site's resource usage. And offer the option of banner ads for zensurfrei.com and/or third-reich-books.com in exchange for a lower web-hosting fee.

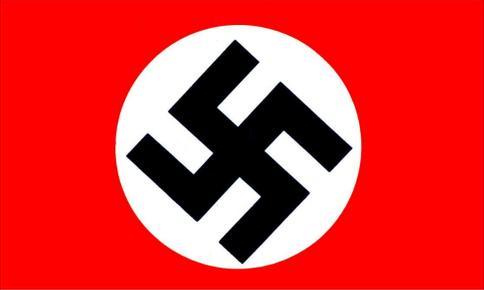

“Frankly, we don't care if we “lose money” on zensurfrei.com, IF we can recover enough on Third Reich Books to cover the deficit. If we can more or less break even overall—but also substantially expand and help the movement in the process—then we're quite content.

“Furthermore, in the process we win friends and influence people.

“PEOPLE are our most important resource. Please think about this. Check us out. Spread the word.

Horst Mahler

Breaking News

In our last issue we reported that Horst Mahler had announced that he was seeking asylum in Hungary. The New York Times later reported that Hungarian police had detained Mahler in Sopron.

In May, Udo Voigt, the only representative of the National Democratic Party of Germany (Nationaldemokratische Partei Deutschlands, or NPD), submitted a motion for a resolution to the European Parliament to ensure that the EU Commission would “give the Hungarian government” authority to grant Horst Mahler asylum; and, in addition, that the incitement clause in Germany should be abolished. In a media message, Voigt wrote that Mahler's affair was “a clear case of a disposition for justice and the persecution of a dissident”.

After some confusion in recent days around the alleged ineligibility of Horst Mahler's asylum application, we now have news that the application was officially registered with the Hungarian Immigration and Asylum Office under the number 43068/2017-M.

Mahler was sentenced to 10 years in prison for “inciting hate and for denial of the Holocaust.” He was released from prison in 2015 due to a serious illness, and placed on probation. He failed to make an appearance in March, as required, at a prison in Brandenburg an der Havel and later released a video on YouTube (since removed) declaring that he would no longer show up for his probation appointments.

lieve that the Britons are “the lost ten tribes of the House of Israel”). One seriously proposed replacing Sunday with Saturday as the proper Sabbath. Englishmen traveled the continent in order to conduct discussions with Rabbis, yes, there were even Puritans who adopted the Jewish faith.

“Given all these events, it is hence not surprising that in the circles of the Puritans, who since the year 1649 had become the dominant element in the Commonwealth of England, one showed a lively interest for the Jews living on the continent. All in all, there exists no essential difference between Puritans and Jews. We find in both the closest connection between business and religion and a view of life determined by rationalism. Both embrace to the principle that everything that is necessary for a good business is justified morally as well.” (Peter Aldag, “Jewry in England“ [“Das Judentum in England“], Nordland Verlag [Nordland Publishing House].)

Old Testament-Jewish spirit entered into the English soul.

So one can represent the thesis that Puritanism is the same as Jewry. The close relation between England and Jewry, totally incomprehensible for us, are explained by this spiritual bearing. But the Puritans' belief that the Britons are the “Chosen Folk” also emerged from the fusion with the Old Testament world of ideas.

Since Oliver Cromwell, that probably greatest Englishman, in whom a rare mixture of religious fanaticism and cold, pitiless cruelty were combined, dates the birth of every Englishman in whom the religious ideology of Puritanism received political consequences.

Cromwell's thesis went: “England is God's Chosen Folk”. “England is God's tool for the liberation and education of mankind”. “England's enemies are God's enemies.” He borrowed the world domination idea from the Old Testament and used the originally Jewish idea of God's Chosen Folk for an amalgamation with England's national thinking. Cromwell is the originator of the English world domination claim in God's name.

That was Cromwell's greatest work, that he managed the fusion of religious conviction with political soldiery in the Englishman's sense of mission.

Puritanism's worldview always emitted an elemental force. It was adopted, above all by the high nobility and the clergy. Cromwell especially carried Puritanism into the army and thereby created the soldier's ideological alignment toward a national military goal.

Cromwell is the creator of political soldiery [Soldatentum]. Cromwell's example illustrates the intimate connection between worldview and military power. The education had the effect of escalating Puritanical self-awareness to moral self-reflection and self-chosen "God's child" ["Kindschaft Gottes"]. Seen militarily, however, it bred a not to be underestimated moral strength of the individual soldier.

England has become great through the intrusive proclamation of Puritanism, of the "God desired world domination claim", through Oliver Cromwell's charismatic energy, through his and his following's political soldiery. England's decline had begun since the combative readiness for action of the English ruling strata died, since Jewry advanced politically, economically and racially more and more and stock-market and money determined the interests of the political leadership more and more, since political leadership slipped from the hands of soldiers into the hands of plutocrats. At the beginning of England's sense of importance stood no political speakers or stock-market magnates, rather hard soldiers with glowing faith, fanatical will and revolutionary views. Puritanism means the exclusively religiously based claim to British sole rule in the world and on the securing of all the prerequisites necessary for it, above all, on the guardianship and suppression of a mighty Europe.

England has had such a pillar in its worldview that it has again and again, with the most clever means, with the biggest lies, with the most hypocritical concepts, cloaks and diversionary maneuvers, to stamp the most ruthless power politics in the world press as an act of divine right. "They say God and mean cotton" is the common designation for English politics.

That England's behavior represents the most depraved political morality in history, lies on a different plane. But the most essential determination is that England has based its power on a worldview, namely the Puritanical one.

England's atrocities, committed against the East Indians, the Irish and yours, stand under the sign of the act of a divine right. In his Puritanical worldview, the English does not feel at all the crying injustice. To this also belongs the terror bombing attacks. England's Jewish face clearly shows itself in the brutality of the bomb attacks.

From childhood onward, the political-Puritanical affirmation of faith is taught to every Englishman. In political educational institutes, in the boarding schools, in the colleges, these political teachings were hammered into the boys. In an aristocrat education, which has few examples in history, the English master type was bred not least all of with the help of Puritanism.

From the Puritanical conviction of "God's children" and a "God desired claim to rule", the mentality of the Anglican clergy also becomes understandable, which English-folkish is aligned in the sense of Puritanism and actively and energetically participates in the upbringing of English man in the sense of the Puritanical worldview. The school likewise stands in the service of this work.

The Englishman sees the social question as well in the spirit of Puritanism. According to it, the property-holder is the one "blessed" by God, the indigent, the poor, the one cast out by God. So it came about that in England no social legislation arose at all. Hence National Socialism as well is incomprehensible to the English plutocrat, yes, hated. Furthermore, he sees in us Germans, as the "have-not" folk, a folk of which Gods wants to know nothing.

The awareness of being blessed by God also contributing to allowing an infinite arrogance and a fanatical intolerance toward other folks. One must not misunderstand that the Englishman's religious bearing, often characterized by

Censorship-free, Anonymous, and Secure Web Hosting

The internet was once the bastion of free speech, but that is quickly changing. In addition to being imprisoned for lengthy sentences, political dissidents routinely have their websites terminated in Europe, Australia, Canada and other parts of the world simply for being "politically incorrect," re-examining history, or exposing criminals in positions of power. This Soviet-style censorship is even encroaching into the United States under the guise of battling against "hate speech," and most of the big web hosting providers quickly cave to any pressure exerted against them.

The Solution to Censorship is Here

We here at Zensurfrei, which is German for "censorship-free," believe there is no such thing as "hate speech," only free speech that is hated by the established authorities. Zensurfrei.com is the first fully managed and secure web hosting provider for those denied access to mainstream hosting due to "offensive" content. We provide the first totally secure censorship-free hosting infrastructure for your Linux-based web applications and websites (such as Wordpress, Drupal, and Joomla). We even have a team of designers and developers who can create any kind of website you require, regardless of complexity.

Superb Security

We combine dynamic monitoring robots with 24 hour server staff in our network operations center, to provide unprecedented layers of security that are usually not seen in more conventional hosting environments. We make data security a top priority, so threats by SJWers and others will be meaningless! Our servers also employ IP address restrictions and other automated procedures, to deny access on critical ports to anyone who is not authorized. This reduces intrusion risk by over 99%. All file related actions by those who do have access to our servers are logged in a detailed, searchable format that is retained for 12 months. Our robots intricately monitor our servers 24 hours a day and staff are immediately notified in any unlikely event (such as the detection of an unwanted network intrusion).

Preventing Attacks

DDoS prevention is provided by RioRey, the leader in DDoS defense systems, which automatically detects and mitigates DDoS attacks BEFORE they take down your website. Used all over the world, the RioRey analytic-driven solution is designed to meet the most rigorous security requirements of major enterprises, as well as large hosting providers.

We've Got Your Back-Up

Our robots make daily backups of all stored data, including a daily historical archive of all databases. Archives are retained daily for a week, weekly for one year, and monthly for the term of your hosting contract. In the rare event you should require data from sometime in the past, we will likely be able to provide it for you.

The Zensurfrei Difference

Our staff consists of free speech activists driven more by idealism than desire for financial reward. Our CEO is Gerhard Lauck, a former political prisoner who spent four years in a foreign prison solely for publishing a newspaper! That's why we can and do offer more at a lower price than other companies. Our co-workers include very capable professionals with decades of experience in both IT and business. Zensurfrei.com is the web-hosting division of a consulting firm. Global networking, third party barter, innovative marketing, and long-term strategic planning put our outfit in a class by itself. Simply put, man for man and dollar for dollar, nobody outperforms us. We put our money where our mouth is! Our extremely generous introductory offer is a no lose, win-win scenario. No cost, no obligation!

Special Offer

We are currently offering FREE WEB-HOSTING for political dissidents for a three month trial period! You can use your own domain name or use a free sub-domain of ours. All we require is a banner advertisement for Zensurfrei.com. Of course, we must first learn a little about your website! Contact info@zensurfrei.com. If you do not need a website, but know someone who does, refer a new customer to us and we will send you a $26 Third Reich Books gift certificate, which is enough for two books to any country.

Our Enemies

us as hypocritical, governess-like false piety, and his self-awareness escalated to arrogance, represents an expression become form of his unshakeable conviction and the result of his Puritanical-religious upbringing.

England is the prime example for how an idea, emanating from a firmly aligned leadership stratum, can keep a folk in a political-ly fixed aim for centuries.

The Puritanical spiritual bearing was reinforced by England's philosophical systems, above all, that of utilitarianism with its happiness morality. ("Everything that is use to you, is good." Practicality and happiness ethics.) Characteristic for this development is that Immanuel Kant opposed this thesis of English philosophy of the great possible happiness for all with his Categorical Imperative and hence the maxim of the will, of a disciplined soldierly Prussianism [Preußentum].

Everything that was in the position to contribute to this philosophical-religious idea type found uninhibited acceptance in England. England had thereby becoming lacking in instinct, and it set off on a path, which sooner or later had to lead to catastrophe and conflict with the German-Germanic world, which in tremendous psychological struggle had taken a different path.

The ideas of Jewish liberalism encountered this English spiritual alignment, which had already become greatly afflicted with Jewish-materialist ideas.

The liberal ideas of flooding in Jewry and its individualistic-materialistic direction were an important supplement for the Puritan worldview of Anglo-Saxon man. The Jew found here a field of unexpected possibilities, which he then managed to exhaust in his sense as well. He managed to permeate the English high nobility as well as the clergy of the "High Church" with his ideology and to make them completely subservient to him. The Jewish intellectual world now took full possession of the English folk.

England's inner decay began since, with the adoption of liberalism, it enabled Jewry more and more access into its folk body and gradually, through the Jewish decomposition of its leadership stratum, made its rule serviceable to Jewry.

It stands beyond doubt that today the English folk, but namely the upper stratum, stands totally under the spell of materialism. Greed and selfishness, always the clearest signs of decay, dominate the folk! Whereas the worldview of Puritanism with its faith of being chosen nonetheless still gathered all national energies for the building of the English world empire, Jewish materialism makes the folk energy call apart. The world of Jewry has destroyed the still folkish determined life order in England as well.

England is the prime example how the Jew as bearer of materialism and individuals melts away more and more the folk and hence folk energy like a bacteria in an organism.

England's historical development shows very clearly how a folk's fate is determined by the worldview that it makes its own and that it perishes, if it does not effectively counteract the forces of alien ideas. Puritanism and liberalism have reshaped the English upper stratum so much that Germanic morality can no longer arise. This is also why an agreement with our "blood cousins" is impossible. England has become Jewish. It has declared war against us, because we stand in its way as effort to rule as God chosen master folk and in its search for wealth, and because Jewry wants our destruction. England will harvest in this war the fruits that it sowed itself for centuries in its forgetting itself and lack of character. It can only save itself, if it frees itself from Jewry and gains a connection to the Germanic core region or through its joining us is redeemed from Jewry and comes to itself. But its world empire is collapsing!

England's example must make us think. There is only one consequence for us:

To make every German an aware bearer of our National Socialist worldview, which with its creative energy brings the folk to the highest development and with its idealistic basic structure simultaneously represents the sole means against materialism!
